EXQUISITELY EVIL: 50 YEARS OF BOND VILLAINS

Meet Bond's villains, discover their evil schemes, and see their exotic lairs and weapons in this special exhibit commemorating the 50th anniversary of the Bond films. See over 100 artifacts from the films—including the Sea Vac drill from Tomorrow Never Dies, Le Chiffre's inhaler from Casino Royale, and a nerve gas sphere from Moonraker—all from the archives of EON Productions, the Bond film producers. Explore how the evildoers and their plots have changed to reflect their times and how James Bond has influenced the public's perception of real espionage.

EXHIBITION HIGHLIGHTS

SCHOOL FOR SPIES

This section provides an introduction to the world of espionage and describes many of the skills and tools essential to a spy. It explores the different motivations that lead people into the clandestine world, how they are recruited and trained, and how they operate.

THE SECRET HISTORY OF HISTORY

This series of galleries chronicles the history of spying from biblical times to the early 20th century. It explores such phenomena as the institutionalization of spying in the early years of the Soviet Union and traces the rise of espionage technology, such as spy photography. It also examines the role that women have played in espionage and reveals well-known historical figures who were also spymasters, including George Washington and author Daniel Defoe.

SPIES AMONG US

These exhibits, films, and videos examine espionage through World War II, showcasing real-life spy stories. They explore the role of code-making and code-breaking operations and teach various ways to create, break and hide coded messages through interactive exhibits. An exhibit on celebrities includes singer Josephine Baker, chef Julia Child, movie director John Ford, and actress Marlene Dietrich.

THE 21ST CENTURY

The challenges facing intelligence professionals world-wide in the 21st Century are addressed in the Museum's final film, Ground Truth. The looming threat of Cyber War is addressed in Weapons of Mass Disruption.
